

Are there More of you?

Written & performed by Alison Skilbeck

Directed by Jeremy Stockwell

Four women on the verge of a nervous breakthrough linked only by a postcode...

SW11 will never be the same again!

"Brilliantly observed, richly comic characters, all played to painful perfection. A wonderful evening!" Alan Ayckbourn.

"Four studies of losers who turn into winners. Skilful, hilarious, and truthful-the most thrilling one-woman show I've seen since Ruth Draper." Irving Wardle

Hint of LIME Productions presents Alison Skilbeck's hilarious and heart-breaking one woman show, Are There More of You?, currently taking bookings for 2010.

Critically acclaimed at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival, with 5 star reviews, and with a residency at the King's Head Theatre that prompted former Times Chief Critic Irving Wardle to compare the performance to that of the great Ruth Draper, Are There More of You?, is the tale of four women living seemingly different lives all on the verge of a nervous breakthrough, linked by the same postcode.

First there is CLAIRE, bright, abandoned Ambassador's wife, with blood on her hands; Italian SOPHIA, serving egg 'n' chips by day and osso bucco and Verdi by night, while upstairs Mamma seems set to last for ever; SARA, the local Spirit Weaver, all sweetness and light, unless you tangle with her; and SAM, bluff northern business woman, who's always got on with men, but seems to be going home alone.

"A lovely piece of work: four diverse, original characters, telling their highly original stories. Funny, painful, and surreal - very like life." Alan Plater.

Alison Skilbeck has played a wide variety of roles in theatre, television, film and radio, including The Archers, Midsomer Murders, Miss Marple, Soldier Soldier, Doctor Who, Sherlock Holmes, Law and Order: UK, and has created roles in no fewer than six Alan Ayckbourn premieres.

For bookings and further information, please contact:

Jacqui Garbett

Hint of LIME Productions

E: info@hint-of-lime.com

www.hint-of-lime.com

